This year's Stacey Cook Speed Camp is looking to be the best in years thanks to Mother Nature. After years of low snowfall and limited hill-space for terrain, we finally can expand with more open runs and lifts. We feel fortunate that we can offer this camp to a wide range of abilities and ages. Bryce Bennett from the US Ski Team will join us again this year. Our camp focuses on the skills needed to tackle terrain and charge the mountain harder. I'm really proud of how we have designed our camp to simultaneously help our most elite athletes rise to the next level or assist our most passionate parents learn more about this sport for the whole family. Very few camps can boast such an experienced staff and diverse offerings! NEW this year, on the 28th we will celebrate Olympic Day with an Olympic themed dryland session and BBQ Potluck. I look forward to sharing my passion with all the returning campers and meeting some new campers as well! Stacey
